Who is eduSTAR ?

Experts in Student Travel for Over 30 Years

eduSTAR Tours, is one of the foremost companies focusing on educational student tours. For over 30 years we have made “classrooms come to life” by providing educational tours that concentrate on many cities such as New York City, Washington D.C., Philadelphia, Boston, Orlando and more. Within each city, we can focus on subject matters such as history, art, drama, business, fashion, and music. Many of our customers have integrated these educational tours into their academic curriculum as they have come to the realization that including a student tour is fundamental to rounding out their students’ education. For example, you can teach your students about history and government and you can expand their knowledge and perspective on this subject through visiting Washington D.C.

Knowing the importance of student tours, eduSTAR can make it easy for teachers, administrators and parents to achieve their goals of a well-planned educational tour. As a leader in providing educational tours, our staff will become familiar with your group’s objectives and then customize the perfect student tour.

eduSTAR will provide your group with all-inclusive packages, low prices, simplified payment plans and tailored itineraries to your destination.

Just when the season for school tours ends in June, there is no vacation time for eduSTAR as we provide summer camp tours to any of our destinations, including New York City, Washington D.C., Boston, West Coast tours, Niagara Falls, Los Angeles and more.

6 Steps For Success

If this is your first school trip, have no worries. eduSTAR Tours has been in this business for over 30 years and has been owned by former school teachers and travel professionals. Take a look at our suggestions, and you will find the process fairly easy.

Step 1. Get A Free Tour Quote.

Simply log on to our website and click on Get a Free Tour Quote so we can immediately send you the Tour Quote and Sample Itinerary you are looking for. If you have questions before you get started, you can always call us at 800.426.0157.

Step 2. Start Now!

There's no time like the present. Even if your student tour is one year away, now is the time to start the process. This approach gets your dates on the school calendar, avoids conflicts with the athletics department and gives everyone plenty of time to prepare for this important educational tour. Groups that start early almost always succeed and get very high attendance.

Step 3. Obtain Approval.

Each school and/or school board has different styles of requiring and obtaining your approval. Meet with your principal or administration to discuss your travel plans and educational objectives. Be prepared to answer any questions regarding destination, hotel, transportation, eduSTAR's experience and much more. Once the principal gives the "O.K." the principal will tell you if you need to present your tour to the school board. Feel free to call us as we have many outlines and Power Points to present.

Step 4. Contact Other Teachers in School or District.

Other teachers in your school or district are often a perfect choice to add more participants. For example, if you are planning your FBLA group to tour NYC, you should ask other FBLA groups in your county. If your group is drama group and want to go to Chicago, simply ask the art group in your school to come along. eduSTAR can customize the itinerary for both groups. This approach gets you a higher number of attendees and a lower package price.

Step 5. Schedule a Student/Parent Meeting.

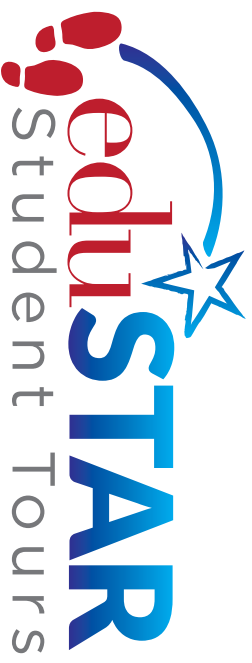

As I am sure you know all of the students will raise their hands confirming they want to travel. It is important to hold a student/parent meeting. Many schools require meetings to occur after regular school hours. You should announce the meeting with fliers, letters and/or emails. At the meeting, it is important to talk about details of the tour and a fundraising approach. If you prefer, an eduSTAR representative can be connected to the meeting via Skype or any other means.

Step 6. You're On Your Way.

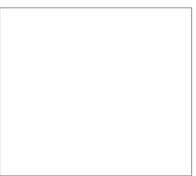

If enough students and parents are on board, simply, let us know and we will get started on reservations and all of the details. eduSTAR will also keep reminding the participants about the deposits and stay in contact with the group leaders. Time goes fast and next you know you will be at your destination
